THE FEDERAL ALLIANCE OF SOUTHERN AFRICA

CONSTITUTIONAL COMMISSION

Institution Specification No. 012

THE CONSTITUTIONAL ARCHIVES AND NATIONAL MEMORY

Working Draft 1.0

STATUS

The Constitutional Archives and National Memory are established by the Federal Constitution as the permanent constitutional institution responsible for preserving the historical, legal, constitutional and institutional memory of the Federal Alliance.

The Constitutional Archives exist in Constitutional Trust.

They belong neither to Government nor to any Office Bearer.

They belong to the Sovereign Peoples of the Alliance.

---

1. PURPOSE

Civilisations endure because they remember.

Nations decline when they forget.

The Constitutional Archives therefore exist to preserve the permanent memory of the Alliance so that every generation understands:

Its origins.

Its Constitution.

Its institutions.

Its history.

Its responsibilities.

Its inheritance.

The Archives exist to preserve Constitutional Continuity.

---

2. CONSTITUTIONAL DEFINITION

The Constitutional Archives constitute the official constitutional record of the Federal Alliance.

Every constitutional institution shall contribute to the preservation of the constitutional record according to the Federal Constitution.

The Constitutional Archives shall remain independent of political administration.

Their first loyalty is to Truth.

Their second loyalty is to the Constitution.

---

3. THE CONSTITUTIONAL PRINCIPLE

The Constitutional Archives exist according to one principle.

> A Nation that forgets its constitutional memory eventually loses its constitutional identity.

The preservation of memory is therefore recognised as a constitutional responsibility.

---

4. RESPONSIBILITIES

The Constitutional Archives shall preserve:

The Federal Constitution.

Every Constitutional Amendment.

Every Constitutional Doctrine.

Every Institution Specification.

Every Federal Administrative Code.

Every Constitutional Interpretation.

Every Constitutional Referendum.

Every Admission of a Sovereign State.

Every Constitutional Reorganisation.

Every Constitutional Oath.

Every Constitutional Judgment.

Every Federal Treaty.

Every Federal Budget.

Every Register established by the Constitution.

Every document declared by the Constitution to possess permanent constitutional significance.

Nothing of constitutional importance shall be lost.

---

5. NATIONAL MEMORY

The Constitutional Archives preserve not merely documents.

They preserve the Constitutional Memory of the Alliance.

This includes:

Founding Records.

Historical Development.

Constitutional Debates.

Institutional Evolution.

State Admissions.

Royal Successions recognised by the Constitution.

Federal Leadership.

Major Constitutional Decisions.

Constitutional Crises.

Peace Agreements.

Acts of National Service.

The memory of a civilisation belongs to every generation.

---

6. THE FEDERAL ARCHIVIST GENERAL

The Office of the Federal Archivist General is established by the Constitution.

The Archivist General shall:

Safeguard the Constitutional Archives.

Maintain Constitutional Registers.

Preserve official constitutional records.

Certify constitutional documents.

Protect historical authenticity.

Ensure public accessibility according to constitutional law.

The Archivist General serves the Constitution.

Never Government.

---

7. STATE ARCHIVES

Every Sovereign State shall maintain its own Constitutional Archives.

These shall preserve:

State History.

Traditional Records.

Records of Constitutional Guardians.

State Executive Records.

Municipal Records.

People's Tribunal Records.

State Constitutions are not maintained because there is only one Federal Constitution.

Instead, States preserve their Administrative Codes, Regulations and Historical Records.

The Federal Archives coordinate preservation standards.

The States preserve their own identity.

---

8. CONSTITUTIONAL REGISTERS

The Constitutional Archives shall permanently maintain:

The Register of Sovereign States.

The Register of Constitutional Guardians.

The Register of State Presidents.

The Register of Federal Presidents.

The Register of Federal Executive Offices.

The Register of People's Tribunal Judgments.

The Register of Constitutional Amendments.

The Register of Constitutional Oaths.

The Register of Federal Honours.

The Register of National Service.

The Register of Constitutional Referendums.

The Register of Federal Symbols.

The Register of Admission of New States.

Every Register becomes part of the permanent constitutional record.

---

9. PUBLIC ACCESS

The Constitution belongs to the Sovereign Peoples.

Therefore the Constitutional Archives shall encourage public constitutional education.

Citizens shall possess access to constitutional documents except where constitutional law requires temporary protection for reasons of national security or the rights of individuals.

Transparency strengthens constitutional trust.

---

10. CONSTITUTIONAL RESEARCH

The Constitutional Archives shall promote:

Historical Research.

Constitutional Scholarship.

Legal Research.

Institutional Studies.

Administrative Development.

The Archives preserve knowledge.

Knowledge strengthens civilisation.

---

11. PROTECTION OF RECORDS

No constitutional record may be destroyed except according to constitutional procedures specifically authorised by the Federal Constitution.

Historical accuracy shall never be altered for political advantage.

The Archives preserve Truth.

Not opinion.

---

12. DIGITAL PRESERVATION

The Constitutional Archives shall preserve constitutional records using secure physical and digital methods.

Every constitutional document shall exist in multiple protected forms to ensure continuity during disaster, conflict or technological change.

Future generations shall inherit an unbroken constitutional record.

---

13. RELATIONSHIP WITH THE PEOPLE

The Constitutional Archives belong to every Citizen.

They preserve the inheritance entrusted to the Sovereign Peoples.

Every generation becomes both student and steward of the constitutional record.

Knowledge creates responsible citizenship.

---

14. OATH OF OFFICE

Every Archivist shall publicly affirm:

> Standing before God the Father, God the Son and God the Holy Spirit, and before the Sovereign Peoples of this Alliance, I accept this Office in Constitutional Trust.
>
> I shall preserve faithfully the constitutional memory of the Alliance.
>
> I shall protect the truth contained within its records.
>
> I shall neither alter nor conceal the constitutional inheritance entrusted to my care.
>
> I shall preserve these records for present and future generations.
>
> I shall faithfully discharge this Office according to the Constitution.

---

15. CONSTITUTIONAL PRINCIPLE

A civilisation survives because it remembers.

The Constitutional Archives preserve that memory.

CONSTITUTIONAL MOTTO

Truth Preserved.

History Remembered.

The Constitution Endures.
